OBITUARY

The Beautiful Character

Of all the beautiful things in life, the most beautiful is character and she who possesses a beautiful character is worthy of notice.

Paul and Effa Thymes provided the moral strength for the life of DOROTHY RUTH on September 19, 1927 in Glenmore, Louisiana. She was their second child of eight children.

After graduating from high school, she moved to Richmond, California, and later to Los Angeles. Dot's character was further enhanced by her marriage to Thomas Chambers in May of 1947. To this union, God gave them a daughter, Gwendolyn Ruth, and Leon, her step-son, was also reared in their home.

Dot received her Licensed Vocational Nursing training at East Los Angeles College, and an Associate of Arts degree from Los Angeles Trade Technical College. She worked for many years as a nurse at the Veterans Hospital and the Rancho Los Amigos Hospital. For over thirty years, Dot and her husband owned and operated the Chambers Shoe Repair and Shine Parlors No. 1 and No. 2.

Dot accepted Christ as her personal Savior shortly after her marriage. She served for twenty-five years under the leadership of Elder Wesley Dickson of Bright Star COGIC. She served faithfully for eight years helping her brother-in-law, Telis Whitson, at Praise Temple Church. She also attended and rendered service at Christian Tabernacle, New Testament Church of Christ Holiness, Christ Centered COGIC and the University Christian Church. She was faithful to prayer and loved to study the Bible.

To us, the highest tribute that can be paid to anyone, is to be loved by many people. Truly, this is the sentiment of all who knew her. For her exemplary life, her tireless and unselfish labor among us, the good she did, the things she taught us, and the inspiration she generated, we thank God for her life.

Dot was a hard worker. She sought to help and encourage all who needed such. She was always busy and ever alert to find something to do. She constantly visited the sick, wrote encouraging words in cards and letters, bought flowers, fruit baskets, gifts, and contributed generously to many churches and charities.

Such steady grind and constant work wore down her body and mind. Her physical and mental strength weakened, and affliction fell upon her tired and weary soul. Ready on the orders from her Christ, who she served so devotedly until June 7th, her spirit-filled soul took its flight across death's stream, where at this moment she rests from her labor.

She leaves to cherish her memory, her daughter, Gwendolyn Randolph; son-in-law, Steve; two grandsons, Stephen and Tedera; one brother, Otis Thymes; four sisters, Henrie Ella Cook, Bettye Whitson, Neva Hughes and Clara Thompson of Los Angeles. She also leaves an uncle, Jack Moore and two aunts, Selena Anderson and Julia Edwards of Louisiana, and a host of relatives and friends. Her memory will forever live in the hearts and minds of us who knew and loved her.
